Background

Mother of Many Children Blessed Humanitarian Foundation (MOMCBHF) a visionary idea since March 9, 2010 is geared towards improving the future of less fortunate children and mothers in Liberia through reinforced Christian humanitarian actions and God centered Community engagements for future empowerment.

Situation Analysis

Liberia after 14 years of civil crisis in which more than 250,000 people died leaving mothers and children homeless in sicknesses and economic hardship was again devastated by another human tragedy, Ebola, more than 18,000 caught the disease in West Africa. Liberia the hardest hit, with 3,290 deaths (22% children). Children “the future of any nation” continue to face tremendous challenges and still remains the group that is in need of the greatest help. Many have not access to shelter, medicines or education, while some are too old to return to school. Girls' education has been especially affected. Rape and sexual violence were frequently used as weapons of war and, coupled with a tradition of early marriage. Large number of young mothers are unable to at least provide meal or afford to send a child to school in Liberia

“If children are not getting the attention they need” the future of a nation is at danger... With Malnutrition, Sick-

Cameral Activity Report

The mother of Many Children Blessed Humanitarian Foundation or the “The Foundation” although in it embryotic states, Mother Jartu and Pastor Anthony Leeseah have been working tremendously for over five (5) years helping needed Liberian children and mothers through selfless humanitarian actions. During their recent visit to the United States of America, they engaged and held several meaningful discussion with personalities of good will about the continuous threatening situations faced by many mothers and children. Many God fearing persons responded in support of the “the foundation” vision and their efforts by providing gifts and kinds to assistance the needed children and mothers. Several items were donated and these gifts were given to children in the communities. Items received mostly clothes and feet wears were distributed to 105 boys and girls child including some adult clothes. Needed mothers that are helping in the up keep of these destitute children through voluntary activities; cooking and caring on a daily basis were also privileged. Feet waring and team jersey distributed activated young youth in daily exercises and games. Upon receipt by the youth and immediate neighboring communities friendly matches were held. Two (2) friendly games were played on the nearby community field and the beneficiary team won both
